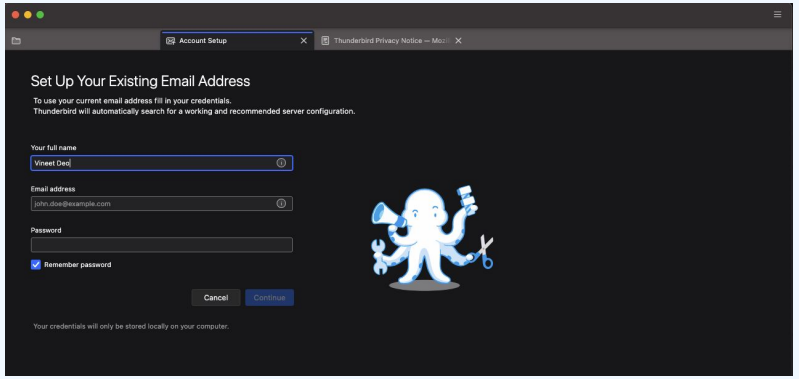
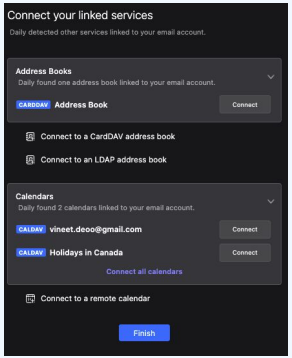
Account Setup Analysis

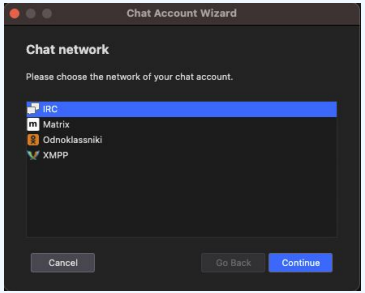
- Email clients present first time users with an account creation flow
- Thunderbird presented new users with a directionless browser-like experience

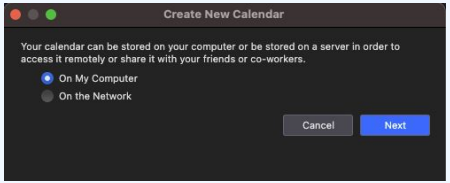


Issues with Account Setup

- Users closing the account setup tab, unable to find their way back
- Different account type setups provide different experiences

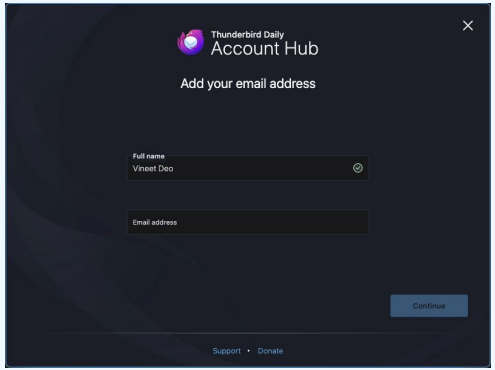






Account Hub: The Solution

- Provide unified account creation/signup
- Present a modal to move away from the tab experience
- Bring a familiar but engaging way for new users to interact with Thunderbird



Give it a try!

- Use account hub for additional email accounts on beta
- Work on address book has started
- Additional address book & calendar setup within account hub coming soon
- Account hub will be default email setup in the coming months
- Keep up with progress on Topic Box - Thunderbird Planning
